

The STARS Program: This program serves up to 22 Pre-K children ages 3 to 5. The program provides a very flexible and busy schedule designed to meet the needs of each child. Our early childhood programs use the Early Learning Guidelines Curriculum. This high-quality early childhood classroom has areas for children to work and play individually, in small groups, and in a whole group with the teacher as the learning leader. We call these areas “learning centers.” This program also has predictable times of day when teachers and children come together to share ideas, listen to stories, and plan their next activities. Daily lesson plans that support children’s mastery of specific competencies and objectives in the Mississippi Early Learning Guidelines are posted weekly.

Planned curriculum activities help develop the social, emotional, physical and intellectual abilities of each child.

Project Joy is a grassroots nonprofit that uses the power of play to heal and strengthen children whose lives have been deeply impacted by fear and trauma. Our mission is pretty simple. It is to ensure that nothing destroys the playfulness of children (not poverty, not violence, not hurricanes). It's really pretty simple, children learn and develop by playing, pretending, and interacting with other children. Healthy play comes naturally to most children, but at times, all children need some adult structure and support to help them play happily and safely.
